Kakimeshi [Oyster Mixed Rice]

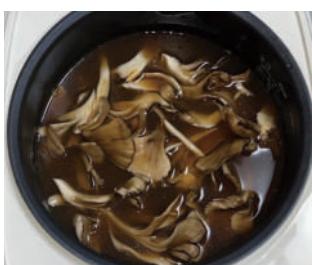

Ingredients (2 servings)

- 2 cups of white rice
- 200 g oysters
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons Japanese sake
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon powdered dashi [soup stock]
- 200 g maitake mushrooms

Recipe

- ① Rub the oysters with salt and rinse them in water. Do this twice.
- ② Mix soy sauce, sake, and salt in a pot and slowly bring to a boil.
- ③ Once boiled, turn down the heat, add oysters, and simmer for 2-3 minutes.
- ④ Remove the pot from the heat and leave for 10 minutes.
- ⑤ Put the set amount of washed rice and water into a rice cooker.
- ⑥ Add the dashi powder and maitake mushrooms. Turn on the rice cooker.
*Keep the oysters for later. They are topping for the cooked rice.
- ⑦ When cooked, serve the rice into bowls and put the oysters on top.

How to Cook Rice

- ① Put the appropriate amount of rice into a bowl. If you would like to cook 3 cups of rice, measure the amount using a measuring cup for rice and put it in a bowl.
- ② Fill the bowl with water, stir the rice in it about 10 times and discard the water. Repeat this 3 times.
- ③ Put the washed rice in the rice cooker and add 200 cc water for each cup of rice.*

Moburi [Special Mixed Rice]

Ingredients (4 servings)

- 3 cups of white rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 70 g carrot
- 80 g burdock
- 5 g dried shiitake mushrooms
- 1½ pieces of fried tofu
- 80 g cooked black beans
- 30 g sayaingen [green beans]
- 1½ tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon sake
- 1 teaspoon mirin
- 30 g chirimen-jako [dried tiny whitebait]
- 400 ml water
- 4 g iriko dashi powder [powdered stock of small dried fish]

Recipe

- ① Cook the washed rice, adding salt and the set amount of water in a rice cooker.
- ② Cut the carrots and fried tofu into 3 cm strips. Using a knife or peeler, finely slice the burdock and soak it in water.
- ③ Soak the dried shiitake mushrooms in water and julienne them. Boil the green beans for 1 minute and cut them into thin strips.
- ④ Simmer the burdock, shiitake mushrooms, and fried tofu in 400 ml of water with iriko dashi powder, soy sauce, sake, and mirin.
- ⑤ When they are almost cooked, add the carrots and simmer.
- ⑥ Remove from the heat and leave until cool. Squeeze to remove liquid.
- ⑦ Mix the cooked rice and the drained ingredients.
- ⑧ Serve the rice in bowls and put cooked black beans, sayaingen and chirimen-jako on top when you eat it in a bowl.
- ⑨ You can also make onigiri [rice balls] of moburi.

- ④ When you cook seasoned rice or rice with other ingredients such as kakimeshi in this recipe booklet, add the other ingredients, and then switch the rice cooker on.
- ⑤ Once cooked, using a rice paddle, gently loosen and turn the rice from the bottom of the rice cooker.

*This means that you would add 600 cc water for three cups of rice. Usually there are guides for amounts inside rice cookers to mark the appropriate amount of water for each cup of rice.
